The VDP.Classification with samples of Pinot Noir from Baden

Baden is a little wine universe of its own, embedded in a rich cultural landscape. On one side, there is the Bodensee (Lake Constance), with its view of the Alps; on the other side, the wonderful landscape of the Tauber River Valley. Here, the gently rounded hills of Heidelberg; there, the massif of the Kaiserstuhl that majestically overlooks the Rhine Valley. Viticultural diversity here is not merely a whim of the times, but rather something that has evolved naturally, as have its climatic and geological differences. Be part of a short trip, overviewing the winegrowing Region of Baden with its' own Characteristics, Traditions and Philosophies.

Workshop with Timo Renner, Regional Committee's Office of VDP.Baden

The Verband deutscher Prädikatsweingüter (the Association of German Prädikat Wine Estates, abbreviated VDP), is an elite group of some 200 quality-oriented German vintners who are committed to terroir-driven viticulture at the highest level.
